APSYS2011

The 2nd ACM SIGOPS Asia-Pacific Workshop on Systems (APSys 2011)

Shanghai, China (July 11-12th, 2011)

June 30, 2011

Ruini Xue
Tsinghua University

Dear Ruini Xue,

Thank you for registing APSys 2011, your registration fee is 490 RMB. (The registration fee is just for attending the workshop. Please make your own arrangements for food and accommodation.)

I am writting to invite you to attend the upcomming Asia-Pacific Workshop on Systems (APSys 2011). The workshop will take place in Shanghai, China from July 11 to 12, 2011.

APSys 2011 will be a forum for systems researchers and practitioners across the world to present their work in computer systems (broadly defined) and for locals in Asian/Pacific region to meet, interact, and collaborate with top researchers in the field.

APSys 2011 features a highly selective workshop with a high-quality, single-track technical program selected by an outstanding technical program committee. The 2-day program will cover hot topics related to operating systems, manycore/multicore computing and programming, file and storage systems, mobile, embedded and cloud computing systems, virtualization and emerging applications. In addition, keynote speeches by visionary leaders in systems area will share attendants with retrospective viewpoint, insight and forward looking at innovations in systems.

For more information about APSys 2011, please see the workshop website at http://apsys11.ucsd.edu/. Please call me (86) 13701830272 or email hbchen@fudan.edu.cn if you have any questions about the workshop.

Look forward to seeing you in Shanghai.

Sincerely,
Haibo Chen

General Co-Chair of APSys 2011
Room 320, Software Building, 825 Zhangheng Rd.
Shanghai, China, 201203
Fudan University